Chronic Pain

Chronic pain conditions last for months, or even years. Few common types, associated with the nervous system are Neuropathic (nerve) pain, Fibromyalgia and Migraines. Nerve pain may result due to injuries, and is associated with abnormal sensations like burning, numbness. Migraines are intense, recurring headaches that can severely affect daily life. Fibromyalgia is associated with widespread muscle and skeletal pain.

Nerve pain symptoms

Migraine symptoms

Neck stiffness

Headaches

Vomiting/Nausea

Fibromyalgia symptoms

Fatigue

Muscle pain or tenderness

Face and jaw pain